Coronation of Queen Victoria

He tried to obtain a confirmation, but only silence greeted his radio signals. They were deposited with St Edward's regalia at the Abbey by Charles II.

The Adelphi Theatre Project: Composers, Music, and Song

The Queen, who was persuaded by to visit the Abbey the evening before, afterwards insisted that as a result she then knew where to move to during the coronation service. The result was a victory for Melbourne, whose government was returned to power for another four years. Pictures of most of the duchesses and maids will be printed in next Sunday's edition of The News.
