Idaho Meanderings: From Centennial Citizen: bomber of Cripple

We hear the military forces roundly abused for their despotism, but, without wishing to excuse any of their usurpations or excesses, it is yet pertinent to inquire whether they have done anything that the citizens have not long been doing. Strikers planned to intercept a train of incoming replacement workers, so the mine owners dropped them off in an unexpected location. This work was reproduced from the original artifact, and remains as true to the original work as possible.

By conviction or interest, their decisions have undoubtedly been friendly. Condition: very good plus; a few light stain marks on back cover; otherwise, pages are bright and clean. I also have the R-46 speaker to go with it.

Criminal record of the Western Federation of Miners from Coeur d'Alene to Cripple Creek, 1894

Out of the five principal demands of the union on their employers, two of them are to enforce laws already on the statute books of Colorado, and a third, the eight-hour demand, was already a constitutional law, and would have been on the statute books, had the legislature of last winter carried out the will of the people.
