Committees and Task Forces

The website includes agendas and minutes from Working Group meetings. Below, the report first examines the successes of some member agencies in taking concrete steps to introduce ADR into their civil enforcement programs, then focuses on some case examples of agencies' successful use of neutrals to resolve enforcement disputes. The proposed increase in agency funds will enable the agency to resolve cases more efficiently, provide better and more timely customer service, and through the use of improved technology, provide more consistent services across our 50 field offices.

Federal :: Arbitration Agreements

In addition to holding meetings on program design, ADR process, training, and neutrals, the Section produced the Electronic Guide to Federal Procurement ADR described above. The text below highlights some of the most significant accomplishments from the most active agencies.
