Christian philosophy

It soon became one of the best ministries of the church. Jesus sent his inner core of disciples into the world for the purpose of making more disciples.

What are the concept and the goals of Christian missions?

Without the gospel everything is in vain. The event of your sitting, for example, occupies exactly the same place that you do when you are seated. Moreover, he would be behaving in a way that leaves sinners and the sinless in substantially the same position before him, which, Anselm thinks, is unseemly.

Philosophy and Christian Theology (Stanford Encyclopedia of Philosophy)

And that is exactly the mission he graciously adopts: to reconcile us to himself, to one another, and to bring reconciliation to creation.

Christian philosophy

A crucial training ground for frontier missions is on the home front engaging in domestic ministries. God is glorified for his fullness; we are satisfied with his mercy. He reveals his gracious nature to the Israelites and rules over them as their king Exod 34:4-7; Judg 8:23.

What Does The Christian and Missionary Alliance believe?

In the Scriptures, we see the verb to send being used over and over, in a multitude of ways. God gets the honor; we get the joy. Give as freely as you have received! Here we find hope when we are discouraged and receive prayer when we feel overwhelmed.
