Cinder: New and Selected Poems by Susan Stewart, Paperback

The poems mend; the poems tear. Additionally, he is the founder and former executive director of two non-profit programs: Community of Writers, a non-profit program to improve writing instruction and student achievement in Oregon schools; and Wordstock, the acclaimed Portland Book Festival.

Mountain Writers Series

Thea Constantine grew up in Hollywood, CA, and has worked as an award-winning performer, filmmaker and playwright. A native Oregonian, he has been active in environmental politics since childhood.

His poems always leave you wondering what's going on, where the umph was supposed to go. Refugee of a vanished rite.

Bradley University: Poetry Now Project

He has worked at many jobs, but mostly as a union carpenter and construction foreman on the West Coast—San Francisco, British Columbia, and Oregon. Millar teaches in Pacific University's low-residency MFA Program and in North Carolina State's MFA Program in Creative Writing. The Poetry Now project has two complementary aspects.
