A shady border

Designed by , this shady spot gets pops of color from flowering hydrangea, Breynia nivosa, Trachelospermum jasmine, Liriope giganta, Begonia richmondensis, all accented by Cassia leptophylla trees.

Perennials for Shady Gardens Zone 9

The result has been great and really looking forward to seeing the borders evolve over the spring period. So if you want a lush-looking lawn as part of your shade garden design, you might want to consider installing fake grass.
