May, in some cases, prescribe medication. Work may involve directing social workers, counselors, or probation officers. The experience of these cases also suggests that technical assistance sensitive to both technical and occupational and environmental health concerns could help maximize the benefits of source reduction process change projects.

Safety and health at work (Safety and health at work)

Lack of Support for Workplace Training Some female workers also expressed the concern that many of their male co-workers did not seem interested in participating in on-the-job safety education and training, and that some supervisors and bosses did not necessarily encourage such training. Explains how to successfully eliminate or reduce the hazards and risks associated with several work processes.
