In 1487, the Manorial rights of Cosgrove, along with those of Paulerspury, Tiffeld and others, had been conveyed to Henry VIII by Anne, Countess of Warwick. Matriculated from Magdalen College, Oxford in 1571, aged 14; travelled abroad 1580-2. Closely reading both major poets and lesser known authors of the early modern period, Kesar explores the ethical self-consciousness and accountability that attend literary killing, paying particular attention to the ways in which this reflection indicates the poet's understanding of his audience.
