

Scripture revelations of the life of man after death - and the Christian doctrines of descent into hell, the resurrection of the body and the life everlasting : with remarks upon cremation and upon Christian burial

Daldy, Isbister - Christianity

Buddha considered himself as an equal with God.	So did Jesus.
Buddha did not fear death.	Jesus did—or laid down his life that he might take it again.
Buddha preached patience under misery.	So did Jesus.
After Buddha's death his disciples increased in enormous proportions.	The same sort of occurrence happened after the death of Christ.
Buddha did not write.	Yes did Jesus.
Buddha's disciples made up histories of him and of his doctrine, but did not expand them.	Jesus left no writings—his followers wrote histories of him and expanded his teaching.
Buddhism spread widely ere it reached a powerful throne, in about 350-300 years.	The same is true of Christianity.
Buddhists were active and successful missionaries.	So were the Christians.
Buddhists laid great stress upon asceticism.	So did Jesus and his disciples.
Buddhism had a pure morality.	So had Christianity.
Buddhism had monasteries, monks, and nuns.	So had Christianity.
The Buddhists had a trinity.	So had the Christians.
Buddha expounded an older faith.	So did Jesus.
Buddhists have faith in relics, pilgrimages, and the holiness of sacredness.	So have the Roman Catholics.
Buddhist monks could have their works of supererogation assigned to other individuals.	The same obtains amongst the adherents of the Pope.
In Tibet there is a Lama who is the monastic representative of Buddha, and who is, so much, infallible.	Latin Christians have a Pope.
There are Buddhist mendicant friars, who beg for alms for the erection or maintenance of monasteries, temples, &c., and rich buildings are made out of the alms of poor people.	In Roman Catholic countries the same class is common, and the results are similar.

Should Roman Catholicism Be Considered a Christian Religion?

And this is the case with the expression of our Lord in the text, Thou art not far from the kingdom of God. They bar it, because they establish the everlasting priesthood of our Lord, which leaves no place for any other; they bar it, because priesthood is essentially mediation; and they establish one Mediator between God and man -- the Man Christ Jesus.

Life Everlasting

The first priority is being a good pastor or preacher or a spiritual leader of any kind is to not neglect your own spiritual health. Luke Commentary Leon Morris - The apostles were not men poised on the brink of belief and needing only the shadow of an excuse before launching forth into a proclamation of resurrection.

This journey is also described as walking. I now proceed to add some proofs of a more particular nature. Did any one ascend to heaven before our Saviour? Life seems so comfortable at times—so certain—that we move along each day without thinking of the eternal implications for others.

A Doctrinal Catechism by Stephen Keenan

Bartholomew, because they bear the names of these Apostles, and yet all Christians reject these two Gospels as Apocryphal. Clearly a very physical presence.

Luke 24 Commentary

We have a complete list of an uninterrupted chain of Roman Pontiffs, reaching from the present Pontiff, Pius the 9th, to St. He again disappears from view during at and Caesarea, and only reappears when sets out for , whither he accompanies him , , and where he remains with him till the close of his first imprisonment ;. White leaves us in darkness as to just what it proves her to be.
