General Assembly & International Law

Václav Mikulka, and to the Chairman of the Working Group, Mr. In the Special Rapporteur's view, the idea of merely taking note of the distinction, without defining it in the draft articles, was not necessarily a way of evading that problem. Miguel de Serpa Soares participated in the event to mark the 69th Anniversary of the Genocide Convention and the On 4th December 2017, the United Nations Legal Counsel, Mr.

It is, however, also a topic that in our view does not easily lend itself to codification, considering the relatively limited and varying practice. However, such requirement shall not be applied in a manner which would result in rendering the person concerned stateless, even if only temporarily.

International Law Commission and role of subsequent practice as a means of interpretation under Articles 31 and 32 VCLT

Draws the attention of Governments to the importance, for the International Law Commission, of having their views on the draft articles on State responsibility adopted on first reading by the Commission, and urges them to submit their comments and observations in writing by 1 January 1998, as requested by the Commission; 6. If, for example, a seizure of slaves occurred at a time when slavery had not been unlawful, then the slaves would have to be returned to the proprietors.

Item 79: Report of the International Law Commission on the work of Its seventy

In his view, the distinction between a completed act and a continuing one was far more relevant and should be retained, although, once again, its precise application would depend on the nature of the primary obligation involved and on the circumstances of the case. The main purpose of Mr. The United Nations Legal Counsel, Mr.
