Stout walking boots, waterproof and windproof clothing are essential.

Planning your Southern Upland Way walk

It's worth dropping them an email to check that they have what you need in stock.

Scotland: Walking The Southern Upland Way

Saves carrying 6 separate OS maps. What is the walk like? You will be picked up and dropped off at two pick up points, and stay in Dalry for two nights. Couple of things: the forests are now mostly cut down, due to larch disease.

Southern Upland Way walking guidebook

However, most stage end points are only very circuitously linked by road so very few stages offer the chance to return by public transport back to the beginning of that stage. The area around Over Phawhope bothy and the abandoned farmhouse at Potburn offer some options, depending on where the sheep are. It was a true adventure, walking across a part of Britain that few explore but which is well worth a visit.
