Stepping up: what makes a great head of department?

Thus, faculty members should not initiate or accept such a relationship with a student over whom they have an evaluative role. This is frequently different from the room shown in the schedule book, which is published months in advance. From my early days in teaching I had seen the appeal of being a team leader, able to communicate my enthusiasm for my subject not just to the students I taught but, through the rest of the department, to all those studying the subject across the school.

Department of Mathematics

Providing leadership for the faculty in developing strong and attractive curricula. After a student's supervisory committee is formed, the Director of Graduate Studies or Head must be informed promptly by the student of any changes in the student's program; and a copy of each student scan form and request for registration change must be given to the Director of Graduate Studies or Head. These six courses must include a.
