Community Policing

Crime Prevention Studies, 15, 257—298.

Abstracts Database

Under community policing, law enforcement focuses not only on enforcement, but also on crime prevention and proactively addressing the root causes of crime and disorder. This mismatch of priorities can hinder the relationship between the police and the community. Coplink: Database Detective NCJ Number 211767 Publication Date: 1999 71.

Problem

By regulating parking rates, the total demand for parking can be distributed among the set of parking lots under question. Possible solutions to the bicycle parking problem include offering more shared bicycles as alternatives to second bicycles, striving to ban second bicycles from racks situated close to train platforms by means of pricing and enforcement , and locating parking spaces specifically designated for second bicycles further away from train platforms. Initial estimates revealed that these second bicycles accounted for at least 45% of the bicycle parking pressure witnessed at all train stations in the Netherlands.
