Akira Okouchi

He then leaves the Camp and heads back for Kasumigaseki. Nishiki reveals that he has a bug placed on Shinji and has been tracking him ever since he escaped with Kazama.

Akira Kazama

He was apparently surrendered by his mother and brought to an orphanage sometime after Kaneda, as shown in one of the flashback sequences in the film. Nishiki doesn't resist and takes it, only sobbing after the beating, feeling ashamed that he betrayed the very man that gave him his family. See references below for more details.

Kaisuke

Afterwards he says they really are the Messiahs and that he had a dream of a white world, where they tell him of coming Messiahs who would seek the remote. After hearing and learning of Daigo's sudden change of personality, the trio decides to investigate the situation while also investigating the new wave of attacks on the local schools themselves.

Akira Kazama

When met, Akira will confusedly mention he thought Flynn had left that world after defeating Kenji. This can be inferred through the way he is characterized in flashbacks, especially when compared to Kaneda at the same age. She may be tough and commanding while wearing her biker outfit, but is a docile and gentle person without it.

Akira Kazama

He pays his respects to his deceased friend at his grave, along with those of his foster father and Yumi Sawamura.

Akira Nishikiyama

Both versions can be used subsequently.
