

Declaration of the Officers of the Army opened, examined and condemned, and the Parliament vindicated, against the scandalous reproaches, lies and falsehoods cast upon them in the said declaration. Shewing that it is high treason (and hath been judged so by Several Parliaments) for any to endeavour to make void an Act of Parliament, and they for levying war against the Parliament are traytors, and deserve death, and their estates to be sequestred, as well, if not better than Sir George Booth and his party. Also, that it is against the fundamental laws... to have any mony raised on the People without their consent in Parliament. Together with the legality of this Parliament asserted ...

[s.n.] -

Description: -

Tags: #

-
England and Wales. -- Parliament. . .
England and Wales. -- Army. . .
Booth, George, -- Baron Delamer, -- 1622-1684.declaration of the . . .
Officers of the Army opened, examined and condemned, and the Parliament vindicated, against the scandalous reproaches, lies and . falsehoods cast upon them in the said declaration. Shewing that it is high treason (and hath been judged so by Several Parliaments) for any .
to endeavour to make void an Act of Parliament, and they for levying waragainst the Parliament are traytors, and deserve death, and their . . .
estates to be sequestred, as well, if not better than Sir George Booth and his party. Also, that it is against the fundamental laws... to have .
any mony raised on the People without their consent in Parliament.
Together with the legallity of this Parliament asserted ...
-declaration of the Officers of the Army opened, examined and condemned, and the Parliament vindicated, against the scandalous reproaches, lies and falsehoods cast upon them in the said declaration. Shewing that it is high treason (and hath been judged so by Several Parliaments) for any to endeavour to make void an Act of Parliament, and they for levying waragainst the Parliament are traytors, and deserve death, and their estates to be sequestred, as well, if not better than Sir George Booth and his party. Also, that it is against the fundamental laws... to have any mony raised on the People without their consent in Parliament. Together with the legallity of this Parliament asserted ...
Notes: Wing (2nd ed.): D15.
This edition was published in 1659

Filesize: 62.27 MB

- < Declaration of the Officers of the Army opened, examined and condemned, and the Parliament vindicated, against the scandalous reproaches, lies and falsehoods cast upon them in the said declaration. Shewing that it is high treason (and hath been judged so by Several Parliaments) for any to endeavour to make void an Act of Parliament, and they for levying war against the Parliament are traitors, and deserve death, and their estates to be sequestred, as well, if not better than Sir George Booth and his party . Also, that it is against the fundamental laws... to have any money raised on the People without their consent in Parliament. Together with the legality of this Parliament asserted ... ~ eBook

---

Related Books

- Evening edged in gold
- Macroeconomics in focus
- Zhuang xia yi zhen - Ming Qing zhi Minguo shi qi nü xing chuan tong yin shi
- Development of English agriculture, 1815-1873 - prepared for the Economic History Society.
- [\[Rom:\] Libro llamado el cortesano](#)