He ordered and to stay behind to guard and respectively during his absence, while he personally led Liu Bei's forces in southern Jing Province to attack Cao Cao's strongholds in the north. After a few minutes pass, Guan Ping will appear and head to the southwest for the flood attack.

Battle of Fancheng

Xiang Yang was the main boarderline between Wu and Wei and had Guan Yu managed to successfully capture it Shu would be within striking distance of both Wei and Wu. The plan reasoned that Liu Bei could not continue his offensive in the north due to the need to consolidate his new gains, and so an attack into southern Jing Province would not be hindered by Liu Bei's invasion elsewhere. However, Guan Yu not only rejected the proposal, but also scolded and humiliated the messenger.
