Beeching Jack

Down some blind alley, on a horse called Fury. But the true addict doesn't even need to read the books there are various categories of course of bibliomads people and I am one who both collects to complete or just to have and sometimes to dip into and other times to actually read and re-read! London, Anvil Press Poetry, 1970. .

Mead, Matthew

He graduated from teachers' college in 1965 and worked as a teacher in Peekskill and New York City. Early Poetry: Echoes of War and English Landscape Beeching was born in 1922 — the same year as Philip Larkin and Donald Davie — and was therefore one of that generation of poets whose work came to maturity in the late 1940s and 1950s — although his work had very little in common in style or political orientation with the Movement poets dominant in that period.

Mead, Matthew

Illness and a growing sense of his mortality, perhaps, inspired him to write a series of poems which take stock of his life and achievement and create images of himself, in slow decline and dissolution, translated from elegant flâneur to aging solitary and survivor. On all things Jack Beeching and more? Included in Text and Fragment, The Inheritance, Miniatures, 1972.
