Pakistan Studies: Pakistan and the Muslim World

The idea of a common fatherland watan was consequently highlighted as an essential prerequisite for building a modern state capable of meeting the challenges of Western domination. Bangladesh was East Pakistan but the internal instability and external conspiracies gave birth to Bangladesh.

Pakistan and Arab's drifting ideology

ISIS had greater success attracting recruits from Europe, with approximately 6,000 departing from European countries. Arab nationalism was represented by three closely related ideological currents: Nasserism, named after the Egyptian president; Baathism, deriving from the pan-Arab, the Arab Socialist Baath Party, set up in Damascus in 1947; and the Movement of Arab Nationalists, founded by Palestinian, Syrian, and Kuwaiti former students of the in 1952. The peculiarity associated with the state of Pakistan owes to the very idea of Muslim Nationalism that convinced the Muslims of India to struggle for a separate state.

Pakistan and Arab's drifting ideology

It is an ideological challenge that needs to be understood, absorbed and fully appreciated. Reprint, London and : Routledge, 1998. Lacking a popular mandate the military regime has sought its claim to legitimacy, if not its purpose, in divine ordinance.

Pakistan Ideology: A pillar of National Integration

What actually motivates al-Qaeda is not power, wealth or fame, but rather this ideological belief in the purification of Islam through violent struggle. The fourth factor which formed the ideology of Pakistan, that of Co-existence — by Muslims possessing enormous diversity of ethnicity, languages, life-styles — was under severe stress from the word go. Islam is a cancer in society, and it must be kept out.

How the United States is Perceived in the Arab and Muslim Worlds

Many Pakistanis express unease over the societal divisions that emerged. Towgunner77 Ah, its not like that at all. Some segments may do so for some time.
