The content and corresponding faculties of architectural experience likely include some mix of the cognitive, emotive, and sensual. Data in the intermediary store is then indexed into Azure Search for document retrieval, loaded into QnA Maker to create question and answer pairs, or loaded into a custom web app for unstructured text processing.

ERIC

We learned from the Iceberg Model that academic concepts learned in students' primary language will help them acquire English.

Movement and Learning

It then became the prototype for other social housing projects to follow the example of modern living. For example, consider Application Insights for web logs, Cosmos DB for conversations, and Azure Storage for large payloads. These services can be wired up as middleware modules in your bot to interact more naturally and intelligently with the user.
