Philippine Council for Aquatic and Marine Research and Development, Los Baños, Laguna, Philippines. If anything else, these repealed AOs are still helpful in giving the reader a historical perspective of the development of policies regarding the covered subjects.

Coastal Resource Managment (CRM)

At the same time, it strongly promotes the need to review and amend national policies that affect the direction of fisheries and ICRM. Ordinances, when carefully crafted, may also prove to be a greater deterrent for coastal law offenders, even though under RA 7160, the maximum imposable penalty by legal ordinance is only a fine of Php2,500 and imprisonment of 6 months.
