Personal narrative

He discusses the fighting and a flag that his regiment captured as well as news of camp life, including some souvenirs he and others have picked up.

Family History

The creole soldiers came of a race whose habit it has ever been to take all phases of life joyously; but that morning their gayety was tempered by a dark undercurrent of fierce anxiety.

The Peninsular War 1808

I did not doubt that Maryland would follow the lead of her more Southern sisters, as the cause of quarrel was common with all the Southern States, but whether she did or not, could make no difference with me now, since my allegiance, and my services had become due to another State.

Royal Marines

We had had experience of the fact, that our partner-States of the North, who were in a majority, had trampled upon the rights of the Southern minority, and we desired, as the only remedy, to dissolve the partnership into which Henry had objected to entering—not so much because of any defect in the articles of copartnership, as for want of faith in our copartners. You will be pleased, also, to take the examinations of the master, and mate of each of these vessels, before a notary, touching the property of the vessels, and cargoes ; and making a copy thereof, to be retained in your own possession, you will send, by some safe conveyance, the originals, addressed to " The Judge of the Confederate States District Court, New Orleans, La.
