. Other well chosen photographs included in the book add immeasurably to the reader's enjoyment. I am starting to wonder if this was a typo that was missed in the proofreading, or if he did this on purpose so one investigative mind like mine would come along and turn his conclusion on its head? The museum is located at 501 North Main Street and is open Tuesday — Friday from 10am to 4:30pm and Saturday, 9am to 4:30pm.

Teaching the gospel was St.

Denver's 19th Century

They both wrote about his life and works and kept records that allowed much of the story to be pieced together by the author.

An Alsatian immigrant and former cobbler, Francis Schlatter looked like popular depictions of Jesus, and it was said that his very touch could heal everything from migraines and arthritis to blindness and cancer. Word of miracle cures brought both the needy and the curious; people often came hundreds of miles to wait for hours in the rain and hot sun to receive his healing touch.
