

Protestant Union. Formed in the year 1798, for the benefit of the widows and children of Protestant ministers of every denomination

printed for T. Chapman - A History of England in the Eighteenth Century, vol. VIII

Description: -

-Protestant Union. Formed in the year 1798, for the benefit of the widows and children of Protestant ministers of every denomination

-Eighteenth century -- reel 9213, no. 15. Protestant Union. Formed in the year 1798, for the benefit of the widows and children of Protestant ministers of every denomination

Notes: Microfilm. Woodbridge, CT Research Publications, Inc., 1997 1 reel ; 35mm. (The Eighteenth Century ; reel 9213, no.15). This edition was published in 1798

Filesize: 8.12 MB

Tags: #V4 #C6

Protestant Union

The universal brotherhood is dissolving, and the people are huddling into classes. For right now we decided to include the historical societies which have their base in the southern half of the county. Bitumen, an inflammable mineral substance, presumably of vegetable origin, called Naphtha when liquid and light-coloured, Petroleum when less fluid and darker, Maltha when viscid, and Asphalt when solid.

The Nuttall Encyclopaedia/B

Such Endowment would not be impartiality it would be infidelity ; it would not be liberality it would be latitudinarianism ; and, attached as I am to the Church of Scotland, desirous if God enable me to live and die in that Church, yet, if such attachment implied, as, thank God, it does not yet, approval of this principle, I would, with Mr. It should also be mentioned that when Thanksgiving time came around, Elaine would make gingerbread, and bring the gingerbread and cider to the meeting. And this great national curse was thrust on us at the point of Christian bayonets.

Studies In The Scriptures

Each, and still more eagerly the partizans of each, claimed the victory ; but the controversy did not terminate with the writings of these antagonists, nor is it yet terminated.

The Nuttall Encyclopaedia/B

Bores are common in the estuary of the Ganges and other Asiatic rivers, in those of Brazil, and at the mouth of the Severn, in England. We believe that if man is man he has it all in himself, just as he has all his bodily capacities.

Netherlands, The

They contained the following tenets: The real presence in the sacrament, communion in one kind only, the celibacy of the priest hood, that vows of chastity made by either sex should be observed, that private masses should be continued, and that auricular confession was necessary, and should be in Burnet's Hist. Unfortunately some members misunderstood the purpose of that publication, assuming that it was a new format for the Newsletter. Frankstown West, or the Kittanning Path, led up the Juniata and its Frankstown Branch to Kittanning Gap in the Allegheny Ridge and across country via Indiana to Kittanning.

Related Books

- Initiation and the churches
- Chemistry of non-stoichiometric compounds
- DSM-IV handbook of differential diagnosis
- European womens history reader
- Training for individuals - expansion programme, 1974/1978.