CRITICAL EQUITY LENS

As you discover and discuss new information, consider the following:

- ✓ Who decided the 'truth'?
- ✓ What is the role of power and how is it expressed?
- ✓ What else do we want (or need) to know?
- ✓ Where can we get more information and multiple perspectives?

Civic education: Meaning, importance, components, and objective (2020)

Economically advanced nations of the world are distinguished by the excellence of their educational system. In Nigeria there are serious barricades to communication technology use in educational and socio economic contexts these obstacles reflects problems associated with lack of infrastructure support lack of access to technologies, lack of training opportunities and skill development and the overall perception of technologies as status symbols.

Therefore, the finding reveals that the federal and state government should make it a point of duty to build infrastructure facilities including functional workshops in all the senior secondary school across the nation with adequate provision of workshop equipment, instructional materials and tools to make teaching and learning of trade subjects entrepreneurship furniture making, cosmetology, marketing, tourism and GSM maintenance etc meaningful. Thus, students will be exposed to varieties of opportunities and to engage in practical works, which is the major aspect of the New Senior Secondary Curriculum.

South Sudan: Wrong turn at the crossroads? This will go a long way in minimizing the rate of unemployment among young secondary school leavers thereby marking them well adjusted individual who will raise the economic productivity of the country. At the local level, how much influence did teachers, students, families, and community leaders have on creating a national curriculum that recognizes the diverse ethnic, linguistic, and tribal populations? I witnessed this communication disconnect first-hand when I went to visit the county Ministry of Education office with the Executive Director of the NGO funding the school to introduce myself. The youth acquires skills for self employment and becomes economically empowered leading to self improvement and the growth of the economy and national development.

Civic Readiness Initiative

Adekoya 2004 examined the influence of practical skill acquisition and socio economic empowerment of youth in Nigeria. As elementary and secondary schools work to implement new, more rigorous and increasingly controversial standards for math and language arts, though, that stalemate might be easing. Those protests have faded somewhat as the focus has shifted from what the standards should be to how they will be assessed, but many in the MLA remain skeptical.

CURRICULUM

The dictionary of education defines curriculum as the total learning activities or educative experience offered by an institution through its total institutional programmers designed to achieve the prescribed objectives. Several education leaders began advocating for a more cohesive school system, one in which all young people could attend and receive similar instruction regardless of economic status, institution, or location. It is, therefore, crucial to understand that conflict over education is also conflict over political and economic power as well as over cultural development and identity p.

THE EFFECTIVE IMPLEMENTATION OF THE NEW SENIOR SECONDARY SCHOOL CURRICULUM

Functional education state that the purpose of education is to acquire skills of adapting to it and acting to influence it thereby contributing to its development. An example would be focusing on statistical agendas to improve access to education that support continual external funding as the South Sudan government has little funding for a sustainable education system. The New York State Education Department is committed to empowering the civic agency of students and ensuring all students achieve civic readiness as a result of their prekindergarten - 12th grade education.
