For every Leofmann who leaps to view with a neatly potted history modest thegn, one manor in south Hampshire held in parage from the king, another nearby as tenant of Earl Godwine, both taken from him by King Harold ,52 there was a ragged army of Leofrics swarming in their dozens over almost the whole country and defying every attempt to distinguish one from another. I returned my compliment, and then to discourse we went, helter-skelter, as hard as our bad Latin, and worse pronun- ciation on each side, would let us ; but no matter, we cared not for Priscian, whose head sufiered that day not a little.
