The Comprehensive History of Flower Arranging

In economic terms Nepal has a low gross domestic product GDP , but it has a great natural wealth and a very rich flora of an estimated species of ferns, conifers and flowering plants.

Flora of Nepal

It was a time of prim-and-proper society, with privileged ladies and their daughters cultivating and creating arrangements weekly, and tussie-mussie and nosegay bouquets becoming a necessity at every social gathering. The Art Nouveau Period from 1890 -1910 was known for arrangements that were based on curvilinear lines, often patterned after nature in the shape of plants and flowers.

Plants of Nepal

The indigenous Tharus of the area believe the eggs to have medicinal and aphrodisiacal value. That same rise in trade brought with it the Egyptian style of using vases in floral arrangements, which the Romans took and adopted, naturally. However, effective planning for conservation and sustainable use is dependent upon reliable data relating to the species found in Nepal, their distribution and their ecological requirements.

Plants of Nepal

Male tigers weigh in at around 235 kg while females may weigh about 140 kg.

The Comprehensive History of Flower Arranging

They arranged and even cultivated roses, acacia, violets, poppies, violets, jasmine, Madonna lilies and narcissus, but one flower was held in the highest regard.
