We must remember Sheriff Balthazar in our hearts as she embodied what it means to be a public servant. The chancel is not structurally distinguished from the nave, but is formed by the projection of the latter beyond the aisles. In the 12th and 13th centuries the vill of Edgware included the present parish and also that part of Little Stanmore north of the old road that branched off Watling Street in the direction of Watford along the line of the present Canons Drive.
