Syd Barrett: 10 Things You Didn't Know

So we did it again in one day flat and got it a lot better. Wine glasses had been filled with varying amounts of fluid, and recordings were made of a wet finger circling the edge of each glass. Syd Barrett, the founder of the band which took the seventies by storm, was living as a full-time hermit.

Syd Barrett: 10 Things You Didn't Know

Some background first: Some Floyd fans don't realize that at the beginning Syd was the undisputed leader of Pink Floyd. Perhaps a bit of both.

SYD BARRETT Crazy Diamond reviews

You were caught on the crossfire of childhood and stardom, Blown on the steel breeze The description of his character is all here. His semi-detached home, once shared with his late mother, became filled with alterations and makeshift furnishings that reflected the fractured mind of its sole inhabitant. Initially the wind was blowing in the wrong direction, and the flames were forced into Rondell's face, burning his moustache.
