In the liturgy of the Church, this promise is therefore accomplished in us, in me, because I enact, together with the Church, the faith of the Church and thus come, in faith, into contact with Jesus Christ, on whom the Church places its hope. This gap means that there is a great difference between the glorious Christ the Church proclaims the Christ of faith and the human Jesus who walked the hills of Israel the Jesus of history. Thus it is, by a kind of identity, the body of the Lord.
