Intensified precautions to prevent transmission by the oral—fecal route should be implemented for poliovirus-excreting SL or iVDPV patients during hospital admissions. II: results obtained by four statewide surveys. Gradual evolution of iVDPV3 from SL3 in patient 22 is an illustration of this risk and shows the importance of serial stool testing in immunodeficient SL excretors.
