Rite of Christian Initiation — St. John's

For contemporary sources, the reader is directed to the official liturgical books of the various churches. In adopting this official statement on baptism, the General Conference invited all United Methodists to recover the fullness of our sacramental and evangelical heritage. This process was inherited by the adherents of the Protestant and Catholic reformations of the 16th century.

2021 07

These sessions are on Sunday mornings and begin during the 9:00 am liturgy at Sacred Heart Church when candidates and catechumens are dismissed to break open the Word and discuss their Catholic Faith. While these documents place minimal stress on catechesis, a strong emphasis is placed on a prebaptismal anointing of the head and, eventually, the whole body, interpreted as a royal anointing by which the Holy Spirit assimilates the candidate to the kingship and priesthood of Christ; baptism accompanied by the Matthean trinitarian formula; and the concluding reception of the Eucharist.

Christian Initiation of Adults

For most Protestants and evangelicals, these rites are thought to be symbolic reenactments of the messages of Jesus Christ, performed to help believers understand the messages of Jesus.

The 3 Sacraments of Initiation for Catholic Christians

Gradually, the postbaptismal rites of hand-laying and anointing, associated with the gift of the Holy Spirit and now with the physical presence of the bishop, became separated from infant baptism and were given at a later point.

2021 07

Such a development entailed a significant departure from the privatized administration of baptism in the late medieval period. But even here it is often pointed out that the sequence of the rites assumed by the 1971 Roman Catholic rite for confirmation is that confirmation will come before First Communion, ideally at the canonical age of seven, so that the traditional sequence might be restored. The paper is about much more than baptism.

RCIA

But anachronism in interpreting this terminology must be avoided. RCIA starts with The Good News Series, a 6 week series that focuses on fundamental Christian principles as we explore together the truly Good News revealed to us through Scripture.

Christian Initiation

The Catechumens publicly express their desire for baptism to the diocesan bishop. Catechumens are those people who are seeking full initiation into the Catholic Church through all of the Sacraments of Initiation — Baptism, Eucharist and Confirmation. At other times we will invite catechumens and candidates to attend activities of the Church and thus grow into participating members of the community.
