The Fourth Sunday of Easter is also known as Good Shepherd Sunday and Vocations Sunday. The outside of the egg looks dead but inside there is new life, which is going to break out. The Votive Masses in the Paul VI Lectionary do indeed contain an exhaustive collection of Gospel pericopes which mention the Holy Spirit explicitly, but that is not what the Church was aiming to do in the Masses of the Octave of Pentecost: It is the effects of the Spirit's outpouring that are celebrated in those Gospel passages.

Pentecost: The Grandest Octave? ~ Liturgical Arts Journal

Let me admit immediately that I believe that the Masses of the OF for the period from Ascension to Pentecost are admirable in providing that focus on the prayerful preparation for the descent of the Spirit, and is a good example of the ways in which certain aspects of the OF do represent an enrichment from which the EF might well benefit as does the eucharoly and lectionary for the entire Paschal season. Otherwise during life they are to be prevented from entering the church and when dead are to be denied.

Paschaltide: The Days of Pentecost (Chapter 27 of Joan Chittister's The Liturgical Year)

If not, then should Pentecost continue to be marked by such a solemn Octave as that which used to give it such splendour? The Samaritans and the Jews considered each other as rivals if not enemies.

It was at this pool that the sacrificial lambs were washed and given one last drink of water before being taken into the Court of Priests and slaughtered for the daily morning and evening sacrifice.

Eastertide

And so it is that constantly throughout the week, the liturgy speaks at one and the same time of the infusion of the grace of the Holy Ghost, and of the preaching of faith in Christ. The testimony of the Holy Ghost in the soul echoes that which our Lord bears to Himself through the Church, so that to deny the divinity and the resurrection of Christ as taught by the Church, is a sin against the Holy Ghost, and one which carries its sentence of condemnation within itself; such a one, as our Lord said, is already judged¹. Guy Nicholls of the Oratory on the same.

Next, when questioned, he tells the Pharisees that Jesus is a prophet. The colour for the Office de tempore is white; the and Gloria are recited every day even in the ferial Office.
