New Hampshire State Quarter

By the end of the colonial period the seat of government was at Portsmouth, and there were 147 chartered towns in the province. Follow Interstate 293 to the F. Early historians believed the first native-born New Hampshirite, John Thompson, was born there.

New Hampshire is admitted as the 9th state in the United States when it ratifies the constitution.

When the number of deaths is small, rankings by state may be unreliable due to instability in death rates.
