However, they may complete mandated school examinations of student and staff.

The Office of Public Health Practice & Training

There are 9 School Health Guidelines that serve as the foundation for developing, implementing, and evaluating school-based healthy eating and physical activity policies and practices for students.

School Health Policies and Practices Study (SHPPS)

The Office of Public Health Practice seeks to provide many learning opportunities for students - applied practicum experience, education abroad, sharing community partner volunteer opportunities, and a variety of events to participate throughout the year. In cooperation with the Department of Education, the School Health Services Program provides the services mandated in Florida Statute sections 381.
