In the United States, two California brothers, Charles Sumner Greene and Henry Mather Green, began to design houses that combined Arts and Crafts ideas with a fascination for the simple wooden architecture of China and Japan. Many products produced during the 1930s, from architecture to jewelry to kitchen appliances, expressed the new Art Moderne ideals. You'll find the answers to such questions here.

House Styles: The Look of the American Home

Architecture & Building Type Identification Guide

Look past the vinyl siding, and you may see a fanlight or the elegant arch of a Palladian window. What does that cornice mean? Neoclassicism is a trend, or approach to design, that can describe several very different styles.
