The dirty tricks of the Shrewsbury trials expose the dark heart of the radical 1970s

One juror who said he knew the law claimed this could not happen. The campaign wants to know the truth: who planned and gave the orders for the police attack on defenceless miners, who orchestrated the prosecutions. Coal stocks in power stations reached minimum levels - the government was within a couple of weeks of having to cut back the electricity supply.

Shrewsbury pickets' case at Court of Appeal

Supporters will remember that on 4 March 2020 the CCRC finally referred the convictions of eight pickets and invited applications from any others. To give them their due, they did.

News

They were motivated to obtain justice for the convicted pickets following the premature death of Des Warren in 2004 from drug-induced parkinsonism disease. The Shrewsbury 24 Campaign was set up following a meeting of trade unionists in Liverpool in 2006. The campaign has been denied justice for so long that six of the pickets have died—Des Warren, Kenneth O'Shea, Alfred James, Samuel Warburton, Graham Roberts and John Seaburg.
