

Golden age of the American racing car

SAE International - The Golden Age of the American Racing Car by Griffith Borgeson

Description: -

- Pakistan -- Economic conditions.
- Psychology, Applied.
- Behavior modification.
- Chemistry, Organic.
- Stereochemistry.
- Electric measurements -- Congresses.
- Automobiles, Racing -- United States -- History.golden age of the American racing car
- golden age of the American racing car

Notes: Includes bibliographical references (p. 351-352) and index.
This edition was published in 1998

Filesize: 34.110 MB

Tags: #Welcome #to #the #Golden #Age #of #American #Racing

The Golden Age of the American Racing Car (R)

Miller, whose Los Angelesbased company was producing major advances in pure racing cars and engines.

The Golden Age of the American Racing Car

It rose from, of all places, the cornfields of Iowa, the creation of two brash brothers, Fred and August Duesenberg. At the same time, another major font of creativity was rising up in the world of cars.

The Golden Age of the American Racing Car by Griffith Borgeson

In 1900 he added a little gasoline engine of his own design to one of his bikes, thus triggering a lifelong fascination with internal-combustion engines.

The Automobile and American Life: The Golden Age of the Automobile in America: the 1950s

An excellent view into the birth of American auto racing and the people who with amazing creativity made it happen.

0768000238

Item is in good condition. By the time he reached twenty, Fred was a successful area bicycle racer and had established a sufficient reputation to begin his own small firm manufacturing state-of-the-art two-wheelers.

The golden age of the American racing car

Miller filed for bankruptcy in 1933, but his company was acquired by longtime associate Fred Offenhauser and the dynasty continued. There are a few more cars for sale, in addition to the ones listed. Olds, Howard Marmon, Harry C.

Related Books

- Geography for youth - or a plain and easy introduction to the science of geography for the use of yo
- Community planning for public transit
- Law librarianship in the twenty-first century
- Shaping the nation - England, 1360-1461
- Integrazione economica europea in una prospettiva storica