Case IV: Germany and Switzerland

During Queen Victoria's lifetime alone, the size of the breed decreased by half. An added benefit was the greater freedom the young travellers experienced on the Continent, where their involvement in drinking, gaming and romantic liaisons posed as little inconvenience to their families as possible. Blue cloth with gilt titles and gilt device to the front is very clean but has a couple of spots of colour loss.

The Grand Tour

An early modern recorded reference to the Pomeranian breed is from 2 November 1764, in a diary entry in 's Boswell on the Grand Tour: Germany and Switzerland.

James Boswell

Normal wear will not be listed. The editor's detailed notes illuminate the contemporary political and historical context as well as a vast array of contemporary issues, concepts and personalities no longer familiar to modern readers especially English-speaking ones. I am therefore walking about with a healthful stout body and a cheerful mind, in search of a woman worthy of my love, and who thinks me worthy of hers, without any interested views, which is the only sure way to find out if a woman really loves a man.

James Boswell; The Yale Editions of the Private Papers of Facts and inventions : Selections from the Journalism of James Boswell, ed. The dignity of his sex is kept up. Nonetheless, this trip of a lifetime is as popular as ever, especially among mature travelers who think of such experiences as part of a larger bucket list of places and events.
