An economic and social survey of Washington County (1932 edition)

A CHNA provides a global view of health within a community and can serve as a catalyst to align expertise and resources to address unmet health needs.

Research and Evaluation

It should be a study or examination of the educational, moral, political, religious and social conditions as well, for each of these has a vital relationship with all other activities of men in the open country. This information will be used to educate city and state officials about the status of homelessness in the Fargo-Moorhead area and will provide a baseline for data-driven decision making to prevent, reduce, and end homelessness. The brief focuses on well-being indicators including population, health care, economics, health risks, and behaviors and health status as well as cognitive impairment and caregiving.

U.S. Census Bureau QuickFacts: Clay County, Indiana

The findings highlight an often overlooked issue in the debate about income inequality -- the stubbornness of rural poverty.

U.S. Census Bureau QuickFacts: Clay County, Iowa

The initiatives studied are community and school physical activity, school nutrition, worksite wellness, and health care guideline implementation.

OSEDA

Some estimates presented here come from sample data, and thus have sampling errors that may render some apparent differences between geographies statistically indistinguishable. On October 25, 2018, a survey of people experiencing homelessness was conducted in Fargo, ND and Moorhead, MN, through face-to-face interviews. There are a lot of ideas on how to help struggling regions around the U.

Research and Evaluation

In other words, good farming is a means while good living is the end, which rural people rightly set as the goal of their achievement.

Smith draws on official records, private correspondence, and letters to newspapers from otherwise anonymous Virginians to capture a wide and varied range of black and white voices. But the problems in America's hardest-hit counties go far beyond a tax stimulus, and include one aspect that may simply prove insurmountable, at least in the near term: isolation. The city of Dickinson is undergoing a comprehensive plan to develop policies, strategies, and solutions for providing infrastructure, transportation, housing, and public services as a result of the new conditions brought on by oil field development.
