Dutch Reformed Church

The reformatory activities of Wycliffe effectively began here: all the great works, especially his Summa theologiae, are closely connected with the condemnation of his 18 theses, while the entire literary energies of his later years rest upon this foundation. While in general the aim of the revolt was against the spiritual nobility, this came about because they were nobles, not because they were churchmen. It also details Catholic reaction and the political implications of Protestantism, making this one of the most comprehensive and comprehensible histories currently available.

History of the RCA

In the small colonial town of New Amsterdam, on a Sunday in 1628, about fifty people gathered around a crude table in a mill loft. The Old First Reformed Church scrapbook, also in Series 9, contains further excerpts and translations from several congregation documents 1734-1795 , as well as the congregation's 1847 by-laws.

What is it Linden Reformed Church. Encyclopedia

Wycliffe probably received his early education close to home. During the American Revolution, the British Army that occupied Philadelphia used the church as a hospital and later as a stable.

Reports: 'Reformed Church'

Filed after the Board's papers are a few related records of late nineteenth-century missionary work.

Dutch Reformed Church

He was of the Dutch Reformed Church. The Restored Reformed Church disapproves of the pluralistic nature of the merged church, which they allege contains partly contradicting Calvinist and confessions.

God's Hundred Years: A Brief History of the Reformation

This last did not happen till twelve more years later, when at the command of Pope Martin V they were dug up, burned, and the ashes cast into the river Swift which flows through Lutterworth. Burial records often note whether the person buried is a child or infant.

The Reformation

As late as the 1850s, however, many reports from domestic missionaries were written in German.

Lutterworth

At that time, some of the bodies were moved to a new graveyard at 16th and Cherry streets, while the gravestones for others were laid flat and covered over. The town formerly had one on the former which opened in 1899, and closed in 1969.
